SIXTY-FIRST YEAR

NO. 48

CEDARVILLE, OHIO, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1938

PRICE, $1.50 A YEAR

NEWS LETTER FROM STATE DEPARTMENTS

COLUMBUS.—Ohio State university's school of journalism, which is highly regarded in newspaper publishing circles, is undergoing an expansion program of significant proportions, according to Director James E. Pollard. He pointed out that the curriculum has been revised and broadened and several faculty appointments of importance have been made. United Press wire service has been installed and a condensed UP report made available for use by the "Lantern," the campus daily, while the full report is available for practical use by members of the corresponding classes and for news broadcasts over WOSU, the campus radio station. The construction of a $150,000 addition to the journalism building was started this month. The addition will provide for the enlargement of the University Press and larger quarters for the school of journalism proper, Director Pollard said. The structure will be completed by next fall.

Superintendent Samuel H. Squire of the state division of banks and banking announced that a charter for the United Bank of Uhrichsville has been granted. The former United Bank of Uhrichsville was closed for liquidation about two years ago, Mr. Squire said. The new bank is the only one chartered in Uhrichsville at the present time.

The publication of a pamphlet on county taxes and other revenue, expenditures, and county debt for 1937 by the state bureau of inspection and supervision of public officers was reported by D. O. Hector, bureau statistician. It will be sent to state, county and municipal officials, to universities, libraries and other interested institutions, Mr. Hector said. The pamphlet disclosed that Adams county had the greatest tax rate, 8.00 mills, and that Lorain county had the lowest rate, 1.06 mills; that Cuyahoga was the most densely populated with 2,566 persons per square mile, while Wayne was the least densely populated, with only twenty-five persons per square mile. Cuyahoga was listed with the greatest bonded debt, $43,811,128 net, while Darke, Harrison and Highland counties shared the distinction of having no bonded debt; Ashland was credited with having the greatest land area, 723 square miles, while Lake county was listed with the least land area, 241 square miles.

Plans were being made by the Ohio State Archaeological and Historical society for the purchase and rehabilitation of the historic Rankin house at Ripley following the action of the state emergency board in allotting $5,000 to the society for the purchase. The Rankin house, once the first stop north of the Ohio river on the "underground railroad" by means of which fugitive slaves escaped from the south, is reputed to have been the inspiration for Harriet Beecher Stowe's "Uncle Tom's Cabin." The structure will be converted into a state shrine under the jurisdiction of the society.

Private industry placement by the Ohio state employment service, a division of the Unemployment Compensation commission, increased sixteen per cent in September when compared with the August placements it was revealed in data just compiled by the service. New applications for work decreased approximately the same percentage during the month.

A new survey by game management agents throughout the state revealed an "excellent" supply of game, especially rabbits and pheasants, according to State Conservation Commissioner Lawrence Woodruff. The open season will start at noon on November 15. "Nature has been very favorable this year in providing us with a good game crop," Commissioner Woodruff commented, "and nature has been aided materially by successful activities of the division of conservation and by many individual farmers and sportsmen's organizations."

Xenia CCC Camp Is Ordered Closed

Dispatches Wednesday stated that Washington authorities have ordered soil conservation Camp Greene, Xenia, closed. Lieut. Woodrow Harder, commander, stated that a lease was signed several months ago for another year and that he had not been officially notified.

Several days ago a large quantity of bedding was moved from the camp as well as cots, which was probably the forerunner of the report.

Daniel Dean Moore

Died Friday

Daniel Dean Moore, 76, died suddenly from a heart attack in Xenia, Friday at 10 a. m. He had appeared in his usual health but was stricken ill shortly after eating breakfast.

Born in Greene County March 13, 1862, Mr. Moore had spent the greater part of his life in or near Xenia and was a member of the Second U. P. Church.

He is survived by the following children: Harry and Dean, of Xenia; Marvin, of Cincinnati; Robert, of near Fairfield; Joseph, of Orange, Calif.; Mrs. Arthur Evans of near Cedarville; and Mrs. Roger Wildman, of near Selma; a brother, Frank M., of Farmville, Va., and a sister, Mrs. Ellen Dowdell, of Dayton. His wife, a daughter, Mrs. Arthur Whalen, and two other children preceded him in death.

Funeral services were conducted at the Neel Funeral Home, Monday at 2 p. m., with burial in Woodland cemetery.

Four Sons Capital

University Students

Rev. George Weaver, New Burlington, O., just over the Greene county line in Clinton county, has the pleasure of four sons in Capital University at one time.

Horace and Harold, twins, are students in the theological seminary; another son, Paul, is a junior; the fourth, David, is a freshman.

ORTON PARK WAS DEDICATED WEDNESDAY

At a brief ceremony Wednesday afternoon, the Edward Orton Memorial Park of 270 acres, near Clifton, was formally transferred to the state of Ohio. Hugh Taylor Birch, 90-year-old donor, presented the park to the state with an address in which he recalled his early friendship with his former teacher. He expressed his gratitude for the encouragement and help which Orton gave him, and briefly outlined the history of their period of friendship.

Earl Hanefeld said in his speech of acceptance: "As state Director of Agriculture, I accept this Edward Orton Memorial Park and extend to Mr. Birch and others who have been interested, our sincere thanks."

An address on the Life of Edward Orton was delivered by Dr. Allan C. Swinnerton, head of the Antioch College Geology Department, in which he said: "Edward Orton was an interpreter. As one studies his life one finds that Orton's contributions to education, to the state, and to science lay largely in the wisdom gained from the discoveries of others, in the perception of values, and in the interpretation of them to his fellow men."

"I feel sure this memorial has little to do with the fact that Prof. Orton was a prominent scientist, or that he was the notable first president of a large university. It is the record that Edward Orton was truly a teacher and an unusual friend."

The Edward Orton Memorial, a granite shaft with bronze plaque, was also dedicated. A group of approximately 150 people was present, including members of the Orton family and representatives of Antioch College, Ohio State University and the American Geological Society.

Music was furnished by the Xenia High School band led by Z. Zerkle, Springfield Boy Scout troop 21, and Sea Scout troop 1, were also present.

Edward Orton, a teacher at Antioch College in the 1890's and one-time president, and also first president of Ohio State University, was a geologist of note. According to Dr. Swinnerton, "his position was assured by two great contributions . . . the detailed study and correlation of the Carboniferous strata of Ohio . . . and oil and gas geology."

Mr. Birch was a pupil of Edward Orton at Antioch 70 years ago. The Orton Memorial Park, which includes part of the Clifton Gorge, is at once a tribute to a geologist and a friend. The park is located just below the village of Clifton, along the Little Miami River.

Feed Merchants

Day, November 1st

Feed Merchants Day sponsored by the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station will be held at the Civil Service Room at the Federal Building, Dayton, November 1. The forenoon program will start at 10 o'clock with Paul Gerlaugh chief of the Animal Husbandry Department speaking on Farm Feeding Problems. Other speakers on the forenoon program include W. E. Kraus, who will speak on "When are Additional Proteins, Minerals and Vitamins Needed?" and R. M. Bethke on "The Role of Quality in Feeds."

The afternoon program will consist of a discussion on the high points in feeding poultry by D. C. Kennedy. Dairy cows by G. G. Hayden. Pigs by W. L. Robinson; Sheep by D. S. Bell and Beef Cattle by Paul Gerlaugh.

Braeburn Farm

Receives Young Hamp.

Robert W. MacGregor, operator of Braeburn Farms, recently received a young Hampshire boar from Harry Knab of Nehawka, Neb., a well known Hampshire breeder. The purchase is the son of Life Rider, 1938 World's Grand Champion and cost $125. Sales from the MacGregor herd have been to Audley Farm, Berryville, Va., and Mark Dempsey, Shelbyville, Mo., and 16 head bred girls to the Cedarville F. F. A. Chapter.

Mr. MacGregor reports recent farrowing in his herd of 89 pigs weaned out of 107 farrowed by eleven sows.

DISPLAY ROOM REDEDICATED

A. G. Woodrow has had his display room rededicated in readiness for the two new models of Ford cars that are to go on display soon. Besides the V-8, the Ford Company announces an entirely new car to be known as the "Mercury."

Hallowe'en Franks

Must Be Limited

The average citizen has no objection to innocent fun but when it comes to destruction of property or taking property of the aged or infirm on Hallowe'en and depositing it elsewhere means a hardship to many people.

Some nights ago no doubt in the spirit of fun young folks loaded the school grounds with an enormous amount of everything from porch furniture to wagons and automobiles. The boys had a lot of fun at a late hour but more fun the next day when they were ordered to take every piece back where they received it or face mayor's court.

Soaping windows very frequently leaves a scratch and automobiles can be greatly damaged if soap is used to write on the glasses. Have your fun but keep in mind there is a limit.

Blanket Stolen From

Tourist Automobile

There are indications that stringent means must be used for clearing the streets here at night of boys that have shown a desire to be not only destructive to property but attempt at theft. Saturday night a tourist from New York stopped here to eat and while his machine was parked on the south side of the bank building luggage was cut loose with a knife.

About one-thirty Sunday morning two youths were seen tampering with the doors of the Cedarville Bakery and Brown Drug Store. One had what appeared to be a "Jimmy" used to force doors open. Several have reported theft of articles from automobiles and in many instances gasoline has been siphoned from parked cars on South Main street.

It is time to clear the streets of boys as well as young men after the midnight hour.

Get Order In

For Rat Banquet

Reservations for the Greene County Rat Banquet must be made at the County agent's office before Friday, October 28. The bill of fare for the banquet to the rats, that is available through the cooperation of local agricultural extension offices and the United States Biological Department, consists of meat and fish each mixed with red squill in the right proportion and put up ready to serve.

Orders for the bait must be forwarded to the Department, October 28, and may be secured in the county November 4. Persons ordering bait will be notified where it can be secured. One package of the prepared bait is sufficient for the average set of buildings. The bait is made available merely as a service that will enable people to apply one of the best methods of control known to the United States Department of Agriculture. Twenty-one southwest Ohio counties are cooperating in the campaign.

Duplicate Order For

Registered Durocs

Triangle Farms is shipping this week two cars of fifty head each, Duroc-gilts, registered stock, that go to New York City for export to South America. W. E. Watt shipped a car from Delaware and Justin Owen, a car near Toledo. Triangle Farms sold two cars to the same exporter several weeks ago.

NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNERS

At a meeting of the Board of Public Affairs held Tuesday evening, October 4th, it was voted by the board that all property owners be notified that their water meters were being sealed on the order of the Board. Any meter on which the seal was found broken the property owner would be held liable to an additional charge of $5.00.

CO-OP CLUB HEARS INSIDE

ABOUT HITLER GOVERNMENT

Members of the Co-operative Club were much impressed a month ago when Supt. Rode, Dayton schools, gave a detailed description of his European trip this summer with the high points of conditions in Germany.

To get a closer view and a more perfect picture the club program committee had Earl Soper, Dayton Y. M. C. A., as a speaker. His entire talk of an hour or more dealt with facts and conditions in Germany not yet public in this country. The people on this side can hardly realize what the Jews in Germany and Austria are forced to endure under dictatorship.

HERE'S WHY WE NEED FIRE PROTECTION

When the village fire steamer went out of commission back in the days of the World War, and manufacturers could not get material that was needed for guns and ammunition, repairs were held up for nearly a year.

Rather than leave the town without any fire protection the cheapest in fire pumps that could be found on the market was purchased by the village council. The authorities did not feel they should invest any great sum for a pump such as a city of 100,000 might require, purchased just as much for as little money as was possible in that day. Finally repairs were made for the steamer and the two did service until the past year when the steamer reached the stage that repairs were impossible and the company that made it out of business. The steamer was purchased in 1935, fifty years ago, following a fire that destroyed the opera house and several other buildings in the center of town.

The village still has the old hand engine pictured above that is nearly one hundred years old and is more of a keepsake because it was purchased by private funds and presented to the town.

It is imperative that we have more and better fire protection. The insurance rate on your business or your home depends entirely on what the village has for protection. No one can be fully covered by insurance with a fire loss for the more insurance costs the less most people feel they can afford to carry.

In addition to needing a modern gasoline pump that can get to a fire in record time, we must have additional fire hose. Council has not been able to purchase the required amount of hose the past three or four years due to shrinkage of finances as the result of delinquent taxes and legislation that has taken village funds for relief in various ways.

To get some idea of how the legislature has treated municipalities by diverting gas and sales tax funds, the village just this week received but $360 for the general fund to operate business for the last six months of the year. Your vote for the tax levy is absolutely necessary.

When the Country Life Association was formed in 1928 under the leadership of President Theodore Roosevelt, the membership was almost entirely professional men, and women had but a small part in the Association's deliberations, but the picture has changed now, according to Mrs. A. H. Baker, Franklin county homemaker.

Mrs. Baker claims that Miss Grace Frysinger, U. S. Department of Agriculture, invited women to attend the Association meeting when it was held in Washington. Miss Frysinger hoped that at least 75 women would accept the invitation but was somewhat overwhelmed when 700 women attended.

The next year, the women's committee planned on a delegation of 700 women because they expected that delegates who attended once and then failed to return would be replaced by an equal number of newcomers. The committee again had to do some last minute scurrying when 7,000 women registered.

Using past history as a basis for predictions, Mrs. Baker expects to find a large group of American home makers at Lexington, Kentucky, November 1, when this year's Country Life Association meeting opens. The delegation is expected to total 100 or more, and Mrs. Baker reminds those who have not quite decided about the trip that the Kentucky meeting may be the best opportunity Ohio women will have to enjoy such a program.

The meeting opens Tuesday morning, November 2, with the subject, "Planning for Living." An open discussion follows the second talk which will be on what home demonstration groups can do to make a more satisfying plan of life. A discussion of peace will occupy part of the afternoon and there will be a talk on the part rural homemakers can have in an international program.

On Wednesday, the program is built around the subject, "The Interdependence of Rural and Urban Families." Both rural and city women will have parts in this discussion. The urban wives will tell what they think consumers want in farm products and the rural women have the responsibility of relating problems attending the production of goods that consumers demand.

Mrs. Charles Rankin, Cambridge, Ohio, will be on the afternoon program to talk about wool. This is only one of four commodities that are to be considered in the light of producer-consumer ethics. Other speakers will have cotton, wheat, and leather as subjects.

Mrs. Baker believes that Ohio women who want to go to the Lexington meeting should confer with their county home demonstration agent, as parties are being made up in some sections.

CURLETT GIVES TIP TO FINANCE ROAD PROGRAM

A program of road improvement for Greene county amounting to $257,270 as a WPA project has been under consideration by the County Commissioners and County Auditor James J. Curlett, providing the county's share of $54,956 can be raised.

In as much as the county road fund would not enable such an expenditure and the law requiring the County Auditor to certify such an amount was in the fund available, the same being required by WPA, an opinion was asked by Mr. Curlett from Prosecutor Marcus Shoup. Mr. Shoup pointed out the legal side of the question and court decisions and advised Mr. Curlett that he could not certify the necessary funds were on hand for this work.

The unexpended balance in the road fund is $27,404.61, and the estimated receipts for the balance of the year $20,000, the estimated expenditures for the balance of the year and encumbrances total $55,185.02.

Mr. Curlett in a letter to the commissioners has pointed out a possible method to finance the county's share under amended Senate Bill No. 402. This law provides that bonds may be issued against taxes levied on malt and brewer's wort, admissions, beer and public utilities for the period 1939 to 1941, inclusive, and the proceeds of such bonds may with the permission of the state auditor, be used for WPA projects.

The plan would provide not only road rebuilding but painting and building bridges. Under the law the plan of financing and raising funds is up to the county commissioners, but as Prosecutor Shoup points out, no contract can be entered into unless the money is in the fund and certified to WPA by the county auditor.

State Examiner Reports

On County Offices

State Examiners Claude Seaborn and Ralph G. Wagner, who examined county offices, made findings of $4,500.23, mostly technical and "mistakes of the head and not the heart."

Of the thirty-three findings reported, sixteen have already been paid or adjusted, the report disclosed. The findings ranged from a minimum of twenty cents to a maximum of $885.50, the largest item representing a sum held due the county from the estate of a former inmate of the Greene County Infirmary, who died last August, leaving two tracts of real estate.

In this connection, the examiners suggested that the Infirmary superintendent keep a record of all paid inmates, including the dates of entrance, amount agreed upon, time of death or departure from the institution and sums paid.

Such a record has not been kept, the examiners pointed out, in disclosing a check which showed unpaid board bills amounting to $6,239.38, which should be collected from former inmates or their estates.

Another recommendation made in the report was that soldier burial bills, "should be carefully investigated" by the county before approving payment, owing to the fact appropriation of money is intended only for indigents.

Lions Club Holds

Charter Meeting

The newly formed Lions Club was fully chartered at a meeting Monday night with a dinner at Alford Memorial Gymnasium. Members of neighboring clubs were present for the event.

The International Charter was presented by District Governor Marion G. Harcourt, Manchester, O. The address of welcome was by Dr. W. R. McGhee, who brought out in his talk reasons why Cedarville was a good place in which to live. He reviewed the history of those who have become well known by being reared in this community.

Deputy District Governor Frank Harrison, Dayton was toastmaster. Lion Club members from Arcamon, Manchester, Springfield, Dayton, Wilmington, Sabina, Columbus, Washington C. H., Mechanicburg and South Charleston attended the dinner and assisted in the charter program. The South Charleston Club sponsored the local organization.

WHICH AM I—KING OR GOD?

The nation has been treated to an incident in public life such as was never known in this country before, and seldom ever happened in foreign countries that have some form of a democracy.

Realizing what Communism was and what it is doing to the nation the Senate provided for a committee to investigate and report at the next session. Chairman Dies, Democrat, Texas, is chairman, as would be expected under the present political alignment of the membership. To him goes everlasting credit for making a thorough investigation and never once has the test of partisanship shown itself until it came from the White House this week.

Two members of the American Legion testified that Gov. Murphy, D., Michigan, had refused to enforce a court injunction against CIO unions in the sitdown strikes. The Governor also refused troops to civil authorities to protect either life or property. Many other charges were made against Murphy, of which the entire nation has been more or less familiar. Sit down strikes cost the nation millions of dollars in loss of business and placed hundreds of thousands of families on relief, that being the feature of the New Deal to feed families where husbands were on strike.

Chairman Dies now has the "honor" of being placed on the spot by Franklin Roosevelt because he is permitting damaging testimony to go in the record against Gov. Murphy, a pet of John L. Lewis and the CIO Communist union. "Madam" Perkins, of the Labor Department, a Russian sympathizer, is also peeved. Roosevelt to throw out a smoke screen against Dies implies that the Senate Democrats have turned a "coterie" of disgruntled Republican officeholders. The Roosevelt implication is another black mark against the office of president, such as no other executive ever was guilty of. To try to tie the hands of a legislative committee is only in line with court packing and would imply that Roosevelt might himself be a bit perplexed whether he is "King or am I God?"

NO MONEY IN SIGHT FOR OLD AGE PENSIONERS

It now appears that some 120,000 old age pensioners in Ohio are to be made the goat in the Democratic fuss between Gov. Martin Davey and the Washington New Deal. One has continually charged the other with playing dirty politics with the pensioners in the last primary election when the old folks were told just how to vote or lose their pensions.

Washington is holding the club over the Davey administration in not sending the federal money to Ohio. Gov. Davey says Ohio has its one-half of the pension fund on hand and ready to send out just as soon as Roosevelt's stooges are permitted to send the federal money. In this Gov. Davey has the backing of everyone except the Democratic New Dealers.

If Republicans get control of affairs in Washington and Ohio just take a look what could happen under the precedent established by both Roosevelt and Davey. How easy it would be to say "Either vote the Republican ticket or lose your pension." Pensioners should take heed and vote their own sentiment.

The Court of Appeals will decide an important court decision from two lower courts, most likely after the election, not before. Every son and daughter of an old age pensioner that has property will not only be interested but affected. When the old age pension law went into force pensioners could not even own a home, now they can but if they do at the time of death, the State of Ohio takes first claim under a decision of Probate Judge Homer Henrie, Greene County. The Probate Judge in Fayette County had a similar case and rendered his decision against the state, which lawyers, a dozen or more in this and adjoining counties, say is in accordance with the intent of the law. If the Henrie decision is upheld neither the son or daughter of any old age pensioner, regardless of what they have done or are doing or will do until death calls, will have any claim on the property of their parents, until the State of Ohio takes out its claim. This Henrie decision not only lifts children of pensioners but physicians, undertakers, grocers, coal dealers, anyone who may have granted credit to a pensioner previous to death. The Probate Judge in Fayette County decided in behalf of the families and in accord with the intent of the law. Judge Henrie had to stretch his decision to give the property to the state on first claim, which of course would keep the pile for the old age pension politicians to work on. Start out in this or any county and ask a dozen lawyers the intent of the law and get an expression as to what the law says.

New Deal legislation is helping things fast. Scores of factories in the South, that good old Democratic territory, cannot stand the ordeal and announce that plants will be closed rather than try to meet the new order. The South did all it could to check the Lewis, Roosevelt, Communist movement but failed. Western Union announces that it will drop 3245 messenger boys, most of them in the smaller cities and the forces in the larger cities reduced. The messenger service has been donated by the company but never was compulsory. County seat towns are now going back to what our cross road burghs have had to face. Springfield banks announce that the financial institutions in the city will close at two instead of three to meet the new law on hours under the New Deal. This only inconveniences merchants but then business men under the Communist group in Washington are not a necessity. Some of these days, mark what we say, farm labor will go to work at seven and quit at three with an hour for lunch. If the anvil chorus does not start before November 8th, 1938, and register a protest on that date, we hope the eight hour laws goes into effect before January one as suggested by Wallace economists, Lewis CIO, head of the New Deal Social Security board. Just keep this in mind—Franklin Roosevelt is a member of the CIO Newspaper Guild under command of John L. Lewis, a union of newspaper writers and office help. The Guild in Wilkesbarre, Pa., has been on a strike for six weeks and not a daily paper has been published in that city in that time.

Those who happened to be on Detroit street, Xenia, about Democratic headquarters, Monday, were given a treat not expected. Now that women are in politics the men have to stand for many things and especially candidates. As we got the story from a witness to the escapade, two Democratic judicial candidates had to stand for a hot lecture from one of the feminine followers that might have cinged the headquarters sign over the door. It seems that this woman with several children had been near the top on a list eligible for family support, a waiting list being necessary due to scarcity of funds to pay all corners. The lady just a few days ago discovered her name had been taken from the top of the list and parked near the bottom—and was her anger up? And did she lay out Judge Henrie in a public speech and land her gestures right in his face under his nose? About this time Judge Smith appeared and all too soon for he was not forgotten by the "Spirit of Democracy." Moving Republican women up or down the line for public support might be permissible but when tangoes lashing starts using Gen. Hugh Johnson verbiage even Democratic judicial candidates break for the great open spaces. The Democratic exhorter announced to her Detroit street audience that she was leaving the fold and with a blast as to the brand of Democracy in a language that could only be put in type as dots and dashes, out went a Saw-yeo button into the middle of the street. And that lady's speech lingered on to all who had ears to hear.

The Democratic cities are crying for more relief money from the legislature but Gov. Davey has not stated whether he will call the legislature before election day. Cleveland, Toledo, Columbus, Youngstown, Akron and Dayton say they are broke and need more relief funds. The last relief laws passed by the Democratic legislature took funds from needed sources, municipalities and schools. The rural counties were milked to feed the city Democratic political machines. A salesman from Cleveland stated to the writer last week that in his section of the city the Democrats were feeding 39,000 families, even paying the rent in most cases. Hundreds on relief are not even citizens. Just before an election the Democratic cities need relief funds, just so was the case in Washington with congress. Business is getting better so fast and unemployment increasing at a rate that Democratic leaders want another session of the legislature to draw more money from rural counties for the Democratic machine.

Fred C. Perkins, battery manufacturer, went to jail in 1933 on a charge of selling storage batteries for less than the price set by NRA. Later the NRA was declared unconstitutional. The New Deal wage and hour law now in effect hits small manufacturers heavier than large companies. Perkins says he cannot meet the terms of the law and will give it a test in court. Jack Garner may be vice president and the main spoke in the Texas-Democratic wheel, a large pecan grower, yet he has shown no signs of checking the pecan farmer in their revolt against the shelling plants. More than 50,000 women are out of jobs in that state due to the recent New Deal law. The largest sale of pecans is in the hulled class and farmer sale depend on demand for hulled nuts. You might also check up on the last Democratic primary in Texas, every New Deal candidate lost except one. If Roosevelt, Lewis and Wallace have their way the next Democratic congress will extend social security taxes on all farmers and house holds for farm and domestic labor. Next one the must program is the wage and hour law for farm help which is the first step for union labor organization under CIO. The farmer that votes New Deal should fully realize just what he is contracting for. Shorter hours and higher wages means that everything the farmer must purchase on the farm or in the home will cost him more and to be paid out of New Deal wheat at 58c and 30c corn.

Cedarville received about $360 for the General Fund to cover expenditures for six months. The small sum received is no fault of county or village officials. The legislature every time there was more demand for Democratic relief changed the law cutting off municipal revenue. The greatest loss to the village was from sales tax. Some six hundred dollars was taken from village funds for relief. The local authorities cannot even purchase fire hose which is badly needed to protect your home. To get this you must vote to approve the small tax levy for better fire protection.

FISH FOR MASSIES CREEK

Elwood Stroup, Fish and Game Commissioner for this county, placed 1,000 blue gills and sun fish as well as 1000 cats in the lake East of town, Thursday. The fish were taken from the Shawnee Park lake, Xenia. A supply of bass will be placed in the creek east of town in the near future. The blue gills were of good size and fishermen will try their luck.

Together

Off to a flying start, the turf champions of America have been gathered together for the greatest race ever presented on a motion picture screen. Seabiscuit, Daner, Speedy, Indica Brown, Lloyd Pan and other champions turn actor with Wallace Beery and Mickey Rooney in "Stablemates," the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production opening Friday, October 28, at the Regent theater in Springfield.

In the parade of greater productions inaugurating a cavalcade of important pictures comes this rousing drama of three souls, down but not out, each fighting for a comeback, a man, a youth and a thoroughbred horse. It is the greatest human interest story since the immortal "Champ."

Eskew, Eaton, O., are the only relatives. The funeral will be held today with burial in Blanchester.

FARMERS VISIT PURINA FARMS
E. B. Link, Purina representative of this district, took a crowd of nearby farmers to the Purina Plant and Experimental farms at St. Louis, last Sunday. The crowd spent two days there to learn more about feeds and the proper content. The delegation returned Wednesday noon in company with C. L. McGuinn, who sponsored the trip.

Prices for Ohio farm land declined continuously from 1923 to 1934. H. R. Moore, department of rural economics, Ohio State University, says the average sales price dropped from $38.62 an acre in 1923 to $51.14 during the last half of 1934. Prices increased to an average of $68.69 cents the first half of 1937, declined during the last half of that year, but started up again to reach a value of $67.57 at the end of June.

The goal for corn plantings was placed at 94 to 97 million acres by the AAA last spring when corn cribs were full of the 1937 crop. Farmers actually planted a little less than 93 million acres and the crop is still above normal requirements. The average corn planting is 102 million acres.

Hens at the seventh World's Poultry Congress at Cleveland in 1899 may be humming tunes while they greet visitors, as the Congress committee on arrangements announces a song writing contest open to adults and others for 4-H club members and vocational agriculture students.

Mills probably will use more wool during the year than during the same period in 1937 but consumption for the whole year is expected to be lower than last year. Stocks of manufactured wools are light. Farm prices for wool in September were 12 cents a pound under 1937 prices.

NOTICE TO WATER USERS
All water consumers having meters in cellars are asked by the Board of Public Affairs to keep a space clear so that the meter reader can get to the meter.

SCHOOL NEWS

The pupils of the Vocational Agriculture and the Home Economics departments under direction of their instructors Mr. Olein K. Swallen and Miss Kathryn Brown entertained their parents, the Board of Education, faculty and other guests with a dinner and program, Friday evening at the school building.

The gymnasium which was used for the occasion was decorated with yellow and black streamers. The tables were arranged with sprays of bitter-sweet and yellow candles in "hedge apple" supports.

A delicious three course dinner, prepared by the Home Economics department was served to 250 guests by a number of juniors and seniors who are not enrolled in the vocational courses. Miss Carrie M. Rife assisted with the plans and had charge of the serving. Much credit is due these teachers and the various student committees for the success of this affair.

The splendid support and cooperation of the parents who also donated the food is very much appreciated.

The program following the dinner was as follows:

Toastmistress, Wanda Hughes; What Home Economics Means to Me, Dorothy Gerhardt; Toastmaster, Jack Preston; "Asleep in the Deep"—"Sailing," F. F. A. Quartet; Our F. F. A. Program, Russell Luse; Value of Home Economics, Mrs. Lucy Turner; Address, Mrs. Louise Wolfram, Home Economics Supervisor of Ohio State University; Value of Vocational Agriculture, Mr. John Collins, Vice President of Board of Education; Piano Duet, Arillus Wigington, Bernice Spahr; Address, Mr. Ralph Howard, Supervisor of Vocational Agriculture, Columbus, Ohio; Address, Mr. C. S. Hutchison, District Supervisor of Vocational Agriculture, O. S. University. Remarks by H. C. Aultman, County Superintendent; O. K. Swallen, Instructor of Vocational Agriculture; Kathryn Brown, Home Economics Teacher; H. D. Furst, Superintendent.

Assembly Program
The regular Friday assembly was delayed until Monday, October 26, because of preparation for the banquet Friday evening.

The program presented by the ninth grade Monday included devotions by Lella Mae Hawkins and selections by the string ensemble.

C. W. Steele, professor at Cedarville College, was the speaker of the morning. He chose as the basis for remarks the question, "Which King are you going to serve?" The three phases of evil stressed in his talk were sweating, gambling, and drinking. There was much food for thought to be found in Mr. Steele's words.

Teachers' Meeting
The Central Ohio Teachers' Association will hold its annual meeting in Columbus, November 4 and 5. Since the local teachers plan to attend the sessions the public schools will enjoy a holiday, Friday, November 4.

Elect BROWN to Congress

Clarence J. Brown, small business man, newspaper publisher, farmer and former state official, will

Ably and Courageously
Represent the 7th District

for he knows the problems of the people of the district

He Will Not Be a 'Rubber Stamp'

He believes in a sound and constructive agricultural program based on the right of every farmer to plan his own farming. He is opposed to regimentation of the farmer. He believes industry should be given the opportunity to expand and employ more workmen without dictation from government and without continued added tax burdens.

He believes there is no future for the American working man on WPA or relief rolls and believes the working man wants an honest, useful job at the American wage scale.

He believes in more adequate aid for the aged without red tape and exorbitant administration expenses without a horde of inspectors and case workers.

He believes in the simplification of laws, elimination of useless bureaus and commissions to cut the cost of government.

Elect Clarence J. Brown

Milk can't be duplicated

With all their skill and all the aids of modern science, chemists cannot match the natural combinations of nutritive substances which make up milk—Nature's miracle food.

That is one reason dairymen has grown year after year and, of all farm operations, has proved most dependable for security of income.

The key to this security is public demand for milk products. Borden research is constantly disclosing new proofs of milk's unmatched values. Borden selling is a powerful ally to research in securing for the dairyman an ever-growing, never-lessening market for milk and milk products.

Cedarville W. C. T. U.

Peace comes from a good conscience.

In the year 1937 the liquor industry paid to newspapers $23,000,000 and to magazines $7,000,000 to advertise alcoholic beverages.

"Alcohol is not a medicine; it aggravates diseases and hastens death; it is productive of physical and mental degeneracy and should be no longer prescribed by intelligent physicians. It is the best possible persuader of diseases, and damaging even in small quantities."—Dr. DeWitt G. Wilcox.

In the past four years the liquor traffic has robbed the people of America of about fifteen billions of dollars; diverted from legitimate retail trade and average of nearly $500,000 an hour, perhaps caused the death of 100,000 persons in automobile accidents. It has handicapped industry, undermined social stability, increased destitution, disease and crime. Also it has paid quite a bit of revenue to the government.

"The Physician should have blazoned before him, 'If you can do no good, do no harm. If this rule is adhered to, in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred the physician will give no alcohol.'"—Dr. J. H. Muser, ex-president of the American Medical Journal.

Abraham Lincoln was willing to save the nation with slavery if he could, but he found in the province of God, he could not do it, so slavery died. Perhaps we are in a similar situation today; maybe we can save the nation with the liquor traffic, but our conviction is it must be destroyed first.

Once more we face the liquor traffic, everywhere anti-social, not to say criminal in its consequences.

We are not in the status quo ante. We are in worse status by far, and this loose, tipsy, cocktail party generation cannot be the last word in the story of alcoholism.

As surely as history repeats itself, a revolt is due.—Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick.

Bishop George Craig Stewart, at the one-hundredth annual convention of Episcopal diocese of Chicago recently charged modern parents with being "rankly irreligious and not fit to prepare children for a Christian life."

The bishop added that the present generation of young people learned to "guzzle" cocktails at their parents' elbows and that movie stars have replaced Biblical characters in the minds of youth.—Ohio Messenger.

"With the money spent for drink we could solve the housing problem and the education problem," and still have enough left to solve many other problems.—The Index.

A certain distillery recently celebrated the production of the two-millionth bottle of its whiskey. What a sad story it would be if all the misery, crime, poverty and suffering contained in these two million bottles could be told.
